Additional Investigator Responsibilities

Investigators must ensure laboratory personnel complete federally (OHSA) mandated laboratory safety training. This training is required annually. Training compliance is audited as part of the IBC approval process. IBC approval is not granted until all listed laboratory staff, including, the Principal Investigator, have complete their training.

Laboratory Safety Training

Investigators may also want to contact the following departments for additional responsibilities.

University Committee on Animal Resources (UCAR)

Research Subjects Review Board (RSRB)
   If using primary human cells, please be aware you may need RSRB approval.

Office of Research and Project Administration (ORPA)

10/21/10