

University of Rochester
Offsite Bloodborne Pathogens Training Quiz

1. Please describe any tasks you complete at work that carry a potential risk of exposure to blood or body fluids:

---

---

---

---

2. When should you engage the “safety feature” on a needle?
- a. as soon as the patient leaves the room
  - b. immediately after use
  - c. when the medical procedure is complete or as soon as possible thereafter
  - d. before disposal

3. You should only re-cap a needle when:
- a. You have a co-worker to assist you
  - b. You are prepared to dispose of it
  - c. You use a one-handed scoop method
  - d. It is absolutely necessary and you use a one-handed scoop method

4. Please describe what types of PPE you use, and where it is located:

---

---

---

---

5. What is the notification process when a blood exposure occurs? How is follow up care provided?

---

---

---

---